

```
1 <!DOCTYPE html>
2 <html>
3 <head>
4   <title>Image of Corgi</title>
5 </head>
6 <body>
7
8   <h1>This is a Corgi</h1>
9
10
11   This is a link to a Shiba Inu 12
13   This goes to Google
14   <!-- I must put the http:// in order for this to work -->
15
16   This will go to page 2
17   <!-- This will direct us to another html page -->
18
19 </body>
20 </html>
21
22 <!-- If I want to use a local image I should have that image in the same folder -->
23 <!-- Example: Corgi.jpeg -->
24
25 <!--  is an inline element so it does not take its own block -->
26
27 <!-- "Relative path" is when we are linking to a relative source in the same folder -->
28
```