```
 1  <!DOCTYPE html>
 2  <html>
 3  <head>
 4      <title>Radio Button</title>
 5  </head>
 6  <body>
 7  <!-- When the user has one choice use radio -->
 8      Do you prefer cats or dogs?
 9      <form>
10          <!-- In the <input> tag we see that we give them the same name such that the program will see that they are they same so the user cannot select both Cats or Dogs -->
11          <!-- Normally "PetChoice" should be on the URL however, "DOGS" will be shown instead -->
12          <label for="dogs">Dogs</label>
13          <input name="PetChoice" id = "dogs" type="radio" value="DOGS">
14
15          <label for = "cats">Cats</label>
16          <input name="PetChoice" id = "cats" type="radio" value="CATS">
17
18          <!-- We are making a dropdown box -->
19          What is your favorite color?
20          <select name="color">
21              <option>Red</option>
22              <option>Orange</option>
23              <option>Yellow</option>
24          </select>
25
26          <!-- On the URL depending on the choice it will say mood = "Happy" or other things -->
27              What is your current mood?
28          <select name="mood">
29              <option value="Happy">:)</option>
30              <option value="Neutral">:|</option>
31              <option value="Sad">:(</option>
32          </select>
33
34
35          <!-- textarea MDN -->
36          <!-- To determine the size of the <textarea> we can use "rows" and "columns" -->
37          <!-- name="" will show on the URL -->
38          <textarea name="paragraph" rows="10" cols="50"></textarea>
39
40          <button>Go!</button>
41      </form>
42
43
44  </body>
45  </html>
```